You remember the "Calendly right?"

Of course! The Calendly in 2984 was the massive, multi-solar-system scheduling and rearranging Earth and beyond's most powerful tool. It was the engine for the current state of the galaxy.

Except for the comet, the Great Geological Event of 2153 was the major hyperspace lane that connected Earth, Mars, the Asteroid Belt, and Saturn's moon Titan. It was destroyed.

- Scientist radical climate activists had made most of the Earth uninhabitable due to the lower class.
- The Great Geological Event was the second one the Smithsonian Museum could remember on left-centre-parts-of-the-continent-of-North-America.

Right? The Calendly was gone. Gonzmaster's cold-access bunker was all that's left of the ordinary culture around Earth. Gonzmaster's bunker was preserved in a cocoon of additional relays.

- Asteroid hacking (or maybe in-space, anyway, asteroid mining) and vegetables grown in hydroponic farms due to climate change.
- Fungal-based foods and protein packs were invented to replace the producing mushrooms and vegetables that were lost.
- Cultural & Culinary Awareness
- The heavy Indo-Hippo-Nino fusion of cuisine also ascends into food culture.
- Asteroid Cuisine and cuisine educated to Gonzmaster's ingredients, no dishes.
- Gonzmaster's Favourite Soup (made with fermented algae and mushroom broth).
- Lunar Sashimi (once it has reached around the outer system, they preserve the original flavour).
- Spiced Algae Curry (a mix of algae, spices and nutrient-rich algae).
- Seaweed-wrapped Protein Rolls (a sushi-like dish with seaweed and algae-rice substitutes).
